FRIDAY RVENING, JULY 19.

A WEASEL'S WISDOM -The remarkable asgucity of the wessel was well illustrated the other day by an incident which actually occurred in the suburbs of Santa Barbars. A gentleman's barn was infested with rats and he was greatly annoyed by their depredations. They have been gratually disappearing, however. during the past few weeks. The gentleman finally discovered the cause of their probable disappearance in a very wide-awake weasel, which was engaged at the time in a vigorous combat with an unusually large sized rat. The latter proved too much for his adversary and finally chased his wesselship out of the barn. A few moments later the gentleman again found the same suimais engaged in a similar combat. The wessel at last ran sway, as before, and the rat followed in hot pursuit. This time, however, the wearel ran iato a hole it had burrowed through a pile of hardened compost. This hole was quite large at the entrance, but the cullet was scarcely large enough to admit the paraage of a wessel's hone. The weasel darked into his of a wessel's tooy. The weasel darted into his hole, with the rat at his heels. A moment later the weasel emerged from the other side, ran quickly around the compost pile and again en-tered the hole, this time in the enemy's rear. The gentleman, interested in the proceedings, watched the place some time and found that only the wessel came cut. Digging in the compost he found the rat quite dead and partly eaten. The wessel had arranged his trap so that the rat could exter, but, becoming closely wedged in the narrow portion of the nole, could be attacked at a disadvantage and easily killed .- Santa Barbara Press.
